Pedigree pages that feature a lot of 'black-type' on the page are an indication of the horses superior breeding and record of significant related stake race of winners.

Stakes races are listed in the order of prestige and prizemoney:
#1 Group 1 (Gr.1)
#2 Group 2 (Gr.2)
#3 Group 3 (Gr.3)
#4 Listed

The pedigree above was that of Group One graduate Krug (NZ) who was sold at the 2019 Christchurch National Yearling Sale for $155,000 to Kentuckiana Lodge

- (a) The Purchaser must:
  - (i) Keep the Lot in good condition and protect it from any loss or damage; and

8.2 Security Interest

- (b) The Security Interest granted under these Conditions is a purchase money Security Interest to the extent it secures the Purchaser's obligation to pay the purchase price for the Lot or value given by Us to enable the Purchaser to acquire the Lot; and
- (c) The Purchaser acknowledges that it receives valuable consideration as at the date of delivery of the Lot, it acquires rights in the Lot and the Security Interest has attached to the Lot which in no way has been deferred or postponed; and
- (d) The Purchaser will promptly provide all information and do all things that We may require to perfect and maintain any such Security Interest, including registering a financing statement or any financing change statement; and
- (e) The Purchaser waives its rights under the PPSA to:

- (g) The Security Interest is a continuing security, notwithstanding intermediate payment or anything else and is in addition to, and not to be merged in, any other security agreement, guarantee or other agreement (present or future) expressed or intended to be security for the Amount Owed.
- (h) The Purchaser must immediately notify Us if the Purchaser commits any breach of clause 8.1 or of any action by third parties (including any of its creditors) affecting Our Security Interest in the Lot.

- (b) We may take possession of the Lot and for that purpose We are authorised by the Purchaser to enter any property or premises where the Lot may be located or is supposed to be located to take possession of the Lot. The Purchaser gives Us this authority as the owner of the property or premises or if not the Owner, the Purchaser authorises Us as the agent of the owner.

9.4 Resale

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of providing them with appropriate services. However, there is a significant gap between the current provision of services and the needs of the population. This gap is due to a number of factors, including a lack of resources, a lack of training for health professionals, and a lack of awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems. This paper will discuss the current provision of services for people with mental health problems, and the factors that contribute to the gap between current provision and the needs of the population.

The current provision of services for people with mental health problems is largely based on a medical model of mental illness. This model views mental illness as a disease that can be treated with medication and therapy. However, this model is increasingly being challenged by a more holistic approach, which views mental illness as a result of a combination of biological, psychological, and social factors.

The holistic approach to mental health care emphasizes the importance of addressing the needs of the whole person, rather than just the symptoms of the illness. This approach involves a range of interventions, including medication, therapy, and social support. The holistic approach is more effective than the medical model, as it addresses the underlying causes of the illness, rather than just the symptoms.

There are a number of factors that contribute to the gap between current provision and the needs of the population. One of the main factors is a lack of resources. There is a significant shortage of health professionals, particularly in the area of mental health care. This shortage is due to a number of factors, including a lack of training opportunities and a lack of awareness of the importance of mental health care.

Another factor is a lack of training for health professionals. Many health professionals, including nurses, doctors, and social workers, do not receive adequate training in mental health care. This lack of training leads to a number of problems, including a lack of awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems, and a lack of skills to provide appropriate care.

A third factor is a lack of awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems. Many people, including health professionals and the general public, do not understand the needs of people with mental health problems. This lack of awareness leads to a number of problems, including a lack of support for people with mental health problems, and a lack of resources to provide appropriate care.

There are a number of ways to address the gap between current provision and the needs of the population. One way is to increase the number of health professionals, particularly in the area of mental health care. This can be done by providing more training opportunities and by increasing the awareness of the importance of mental health care.

Another way is to provide more training for health professionals. This can be done by developing more comprehensive training programs that address the needs of people with mental health problems. This training should include both theoretical and practical components, and should be ongoing, as the needs of people with mental health problems are constantly changing.

A third way is to increase the awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems. This can be done by providing more information to the general public, and by providing more support for people with mental health problems. This support can be provided in a number of ways, including through the provision of counseling and therapy, and through the provision of social support.

There are a number of other ways to address the gap between current provision and the needs of the population. These include the development of new services, and the use of innovative approaches to care. However, the most important way to address the gap is to increase the resources available to provide care, and to ensure that these resources are used effectively.

In conclusion, there is a significant gap between the current provision of services for people with mental health problems and the needs of the population. This gap is due to a number of factors, including a lack of resources, a lack of training for health professionals, and a lack of awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems. There are a number of ways to address this gap, including increasing the number of health professionals, providing more training for health professionals, and increasing the awareness of the needs of people with mental health problems.
