

Media Release

12 November 2012

Chairman puts faith in Cup Favourite for charity

HRNZ Chairman, Gary Allen, winner of the TAB/Christchurch Casino Survivor Challenge will place his $2,500 each-way bet on Terror To Love in the NZ Trotting Cup.

Allen, as an industry representative in the competition, will share his potential winnings with the runner-up in the competition. Effectively $1,250 each-way will be placed on Terror To Love for Ronald McDonald House Charities. A win would net the charity just under $5,000.

Representative for Ronald McDonald House Charities Grant Hiskens offered these words.

“Ronald McDonald House Charities would like to thank Gary Allen and Harness Racing New Zealand for this generous gesture.

Fundraisers such as these help us to engage the community and spread awareness of the charity and our programmes.

We wish to thank our supporters who help make a difference to New Zealand families every day.

Go Terror To Love!”

Since 1989 Ronald McDonald House Charities have been creating, finding and supporting programmes that directly improve the health and well-being of children. Their core programmes are focused on helping families in need and are developed after long term research and evaluation to ensure they are meeting the needs of children and families in the best possible ways.

Andrew Morris
Marketing & Communications Manager